P. B. MILNE

The opinions expressed in this column are the personal views of the writer and do not necessarily reflect those of the newspaper. Many times they do not.

AMONG US G. O. P.
With the big guns of both parties shooting at the New Deal with telling effect some people are becoming erroneously imbued with the belief that it will be a comparative easy matter to beat Mr. Roosevelt for the presidency.

NOTHING IN THE BAG

There is nothing to justify such a belief, and over-confidence is likely to bring disastrous results. In fact, according to my belief, there is "nothing in the bag" as far as either major party is concerned. Go back a year and who would have even surmised such a situation as faces the president today? Although there were signs that the honeymoon was waning, nothing indicated the wide split that now exists in Bourbon ranks—a schism that threatens to grow wider each day. At that time the G. O. P. cause looked rather hopeless. The Literary Digest polls, the decisions of the Supreme Court throwing many New Deal alphabetical agencies out of the window into the constantly accumulating pile of unconstitutional rubbish had not then entered the picture and became campaign factors. Those cited events have had a tendency to infuse new life into the timid and sickly elephant and give it heart for the fray. In fact the old pachyderm is acting very frisky right now and is likely to stub one of his mammoth toes unless he exercises caution and judgment.

TIMELESS CAUTION

Senator Robert Moses in an article in a late issue of the Saturday Evening Post contributes some very sensible suggestions for consideration by the leaders and members of the Republican party. These suggestions in some ways are revolutionary, but sound nevertheless. For instance listen to this: "It is a conservative Democratic whose party has left him, fits our principles and platform, why not take him?"

Don'ts referring to Al Smith: "We might do worse than nominate a great industrialist of the old Cleveland school of Democracy." That description fits Owen D. Young of General Electric.

"Or a vigorous young rebel against the New Deal, who can explain to the country just what this Administration looks like from the inside and why we should get rid of it."

This fits Lewis Douglas, once director of the budget, but whose (Continued on page 8)

Drunk Driving
Warning Given
By Safety Group

With the official close of the membership campaign conducted by the Richmond Traffic Safety Council, near members of that organization issued a timely warning on the dangers of drunken driving.

"The American people have okayed liquor, saying in effect: 'Drink if you want to.' But the trouble is many drivers take it as a command instead of an optional privilege," one member of the Council said yesterday.

Police reports show that in American cities, during the first year following repeal, drunken driving accidents increased quite generally throughout the country and that liquor is involved in from seven to ten percent of all traffic accidents today.

"Now, that is an indictment which may not be laudable off as just another quaint outlet for the exuberance of the drinking gent."

"Alcohol inspires a false sense of confidence and security. After a few 'shots' the drunk driver becomes in his befuddled estimation the perfect pilot so away he goes, 'hell bent on wheels.'

"Untutored medical authorities tell us that a man is not sober just because he can walk and talk. Alcohol starts at the top of the mind and hits judgment first and certainly if ever a man needs judgment it is when he is driving a motor car."

FUEL SHORTAGE IN COLD WAVE

FAMINE OF COAL HITS MANY TOWNS

CHICAGO, Feb. 1—UP—Worried officials in five Mid-Western states scanned threatening weather reports tonight while coal miners worked overtime to avoid a critical fuel famine.

After 11 days of unprecedented cold, new forecasts of "snow and cold, new forecasts of "snow and a heavy blow. Already 15 counties in Iowa are without relief coal. Five additional counties appealed for help today.

NEW DROPS SEEN

Governor Clyde Herring, who personally supervised distribution to relief cases of 30,000 tons of soft coal miners overtime today, said: "Iowa can avoid suffering from shortage unless another period of severe cold and snow sets in."

The Weather Bureau predicted a drop in temperature in southeastern Iowa over the week-end but no snow.

LONGEST COLD WAVE

Forecasts of snow and colder were made for Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Missouri. Coal shortage in these states has already hit scattered communities but authorities feared prolongation of the

3000 Italians Slain, Say Ethiops In Victory Claim

ADDIS ABABA, Feb. 1—UP—A battle on the northern front with a total of more than 9,000 killed and wounded on both sides was described today in an official Ethiopian communiqué. It claimed an Ethiopian victory.

The communiqué said 3,000 Italians were killed and about 5,000 wounded. Ethiopian losses were estimated at 1,200 killed or wounded. A brigade of the Fascist October 28 division was "annihilated."

ARMY WIPE OUT

The Ethiopian communiqué said: "The Italians, a formidable group commanded by General Diamanti, were annihilated, along with opians captured 18 tanks, 33 field guns, 175 machine guns, 2,065 rifles and many prisoners. The battle, it was said, began on January 21 and ended last Thursday.

In a recent official Rome communiqué, apparently referring to the same battle, it was announced 5,000 Ethiopians were killed and the Italian losses were comparatively light.

CAPTURE TANKS

The communiqué said the Ethiopians captured 18 tanks, 33 field guns, 175 machine guns, 2,065 rifles and many prisoners. The battle, it was said, began on January 21 and ended last Thursday.

In a recent official Rome communiqué, apparently referring to the same battle, it was announced 5,000 Ethiopians were killed and the Italian losses were comparatively light.

AN UPROARIOUS DEMONSTRATION

Accompanied by stamping of feet and lusty shouting, delegates to the convention of United Mine Workers of America abandoned their traditional non-partisanship to support the re-election campaign of President Roosevelt.

Storm warnings were posted along the coast line from San Diego to Point Arguello and small craft scurried to safety.

In most sections there was no fear of floods.

MASS MIGRATION OF JEWS PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—UP—Plans for one of the greatest mass migrations in history, in which more than 100,000 would leave Germany in protest against anti-Semitic, were announced tonight by the National Conference for Palestine, attended by prominent Jews from all over the world.

They announced they would start raising $15,000,000 to send European Jews, wearied of persecution in central and eastern European countries to other lands.

Details of the plan, announced by Simon Marks, British chain store magnate, revealed the hope that at least 50,000 of the Jews would find refuge in Palestine.

LABOR BILL IS STRUCK IN SUIT
FILED BY FIRM

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1—UP—The Wagner-Connelly labor relations act was challenged as unconstitutional today just as a Federal examiner announced a decision favorable to workers who had invoked its provisions.

The challenge and the decision came from two different sources.

The Moore Drydock Company of Oakland asked an injunction to restrain operation of the law in the case of its striking mechanics, who are seeking wage increases. Alleging it is not engaged in interstate commerce and therefore not liable under the law, the drydock company filed its suit in the court of Federal Judge Harold E. Lauderdale. He withheld decision on the application.

It was believed to be the first challenge of the legality of the act by a Pacific Coast firm.

Roosevelt Is Given Support By Coal Miners

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—UP—The nation's coal miners pledged themselves irrevocably tonight to enthusiastic endorsement of the New Deal.

A small cloudburst in the foothills above the San Antonio Heights area of Ontario caused settling masses to become clogged with debris as the water swept into residential districts.

Storm warnings were posted along the coast line from San Diego to Point Arguello and small craft scurried to safety.

In most sections there was no fear of floods.

MOONEY STAY AT JAIL EXTENDED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1—UP—Tom Mooney's "vacation" in the relatively friendly atmosphere of the San Francisco county jail was extended further today by postponement to Feb. 10 of his hearing on an application for a writ of habeas corpus.

They announced they would start raising $15,000,000 to send European Jews, wearied of persecution in central and eastern European countries to other lands.

Details of the plan, announced by Simon Marks, British chain store magnate, revealed the hope that at least 50,000 of the Jews would find refuge in Palestine.

Mooney and Warren K. Billings, convicted with him in the Preparedness Day bombing of 1916, will remain in the county jail until the hearings are completed.

Program To Cut Costs Is Sought

Inflationary Forces Unite In House Row

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—UP—House and Senate inflation blocs rushed tonight toward a unified drive for controlled currency expansion to eliminate the need for new taxes.

In a countermove against President Roosevelt's program for oil, $1,000,000,000 in taxes to pay for the soldiers' bonds and the new farm bill, the inflationists served notice of a showdown fight to issue more than $5,000,000,000 in new money.

COALITION IS SEEN

Although the question of inflation farm relief was subordinated at a meeting of 50 House inflationists, it was evident that a coalition was in the offing between those favoring new currency to pay the $2,249,000,000 bonus and the bloc advocating $2,000,000,000 currency expansion to pay for the proposed Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage refinancing measure.

Poet Offers To Pay To Serve As Congressman

LAWRENCE, Kans., Feb. 1—UP—William Felt's means of living is a Spanish-American war pension; his profession is that of a poet but his ambition is politics.

In taking his first step toward his ambition today, Felt, who is 70, revealed a rather novel political philosophy—the candidate should be willing to pay to serve the public.

Felt, self-styled "poet of the prairies" proved himself a candidate of decided as words when he enclosed with his declaration of candidacy a check for $250,000.

Frank J. Ryan, secretary of state at Topeka who received the notice, said that the check was good but Felt's declaration was faulty, and there was some doubt tonight whether Felt would get a chance to pay the treasury $250,000 to hold his ambition is politics.

Miss Enberg has been under grand jury questioning three times this week concerning her part in the Groneman's deathbed marriage to Miss Clemons and her attendance as a "nurse" in the last week of the latter's final illness.

Groneman installed Miss Enberg as "nurse," although she admitted not having had any nursing training in his "wife's" apartment here and also in Alameda, to which city he removed Miss Clemons a few days before she died.

400,000 Members Are Claimed By Townsend Clubs

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1—UP—Edward J. Margott, state manager of the Townsend movement in California reported today the organization had added 14,000 new members in the state during January.

He set the strength of Townsend clubs, organized to support the $200 monthly old age pension plan of Dr. Francis Townsend, at "well over 400,000" in California.

Margott said many youths were joining the Townsend clubs which he said are growing at the rate of 500 members a day in California.

Thick ice which stretched from shore to shore marooned Tangier and Smith Islands, where food supplies were virtually exhausted and illness was prevalent.

Forced to abandon relief attempts because of darkness, planes were made to send 1,000 pounds of food and medical supplies to the islands Sunday in a blimp.

JOE DIMAGGIO IS HOLD OUT;
DEMANDS CASH

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1—UP—Joe Di Maggio, 21-year-old outfielder sold by the San Francisco Seals to the New York Yankees, revealed today he had returned his Yankee contract to New York unsigned.

A hold-out in his first season of major league baseball the San Francisco youth indicated the Yankees had not granted him even the customary 25 per cent increase over his minor league salary usually given players.

"I want more money or I won't play," di Maggio told friends.

His San Francisco salary was believed to have been $6500. A 25 per cent boost would place it around the $8,000 mark, a tidy sum for young players breaking into the big show.

Di Maggio and the Yanks have a month to straighten out their disagreement. The player is to report at St. Petersburg, Fla., March 1.

WIDOW TO BE

DEATH TRIAL

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 1—UP—The widow who named "Kid" Cain Blumenfeld as the slayer of her militant editor-husband, Walter Liggett, prepared herself tonight for the ordeal of cross-examination.

She will resume testimony at Blumenfeld's trial Monday and face the questions of defense counsel, Thomas McMeekin.

Sufficing sobs, the dark-haired widow described the assassination of her husband December 9 as he stepped from his automobile at the rear of their apartment.

"It was that man in the corner," she said, glaring for an instant at the defendant. "Kid Cain—I saw him when he was murdering my husband. His face was grinning behind the gun."

Her dramatic identification of the liquor dealer climaxed the second week of his trial. Earlier, Wesley Andersch, former aviation mechanic who was grazed by the death car as it sped through the alley, pointed to Cain as the man he saw holding a machine gun that sent five slugs into Liggett's back.

FEW WITNESSES

State's attorneys began shaping their final maneuvers as the court recessed after Mrs. Liggett's brief testimony. The state has only a few more witnesses to call: They will corroborate testimony of the two eye-witnesses.

Indications were that the state would complete its case by Wednesday. McMeekin gave no intimation how long he would keep Mrs. Liggett under cross-examination.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1—UP—A mass migration of Los Angeles police officers to patrol incoming highways and railroads of California, was reported unofficially here to-night.

Although full details of the unusual action could not be secured, police verified that a group of 129 officers were to be detailed to border duty probably Monday morning.

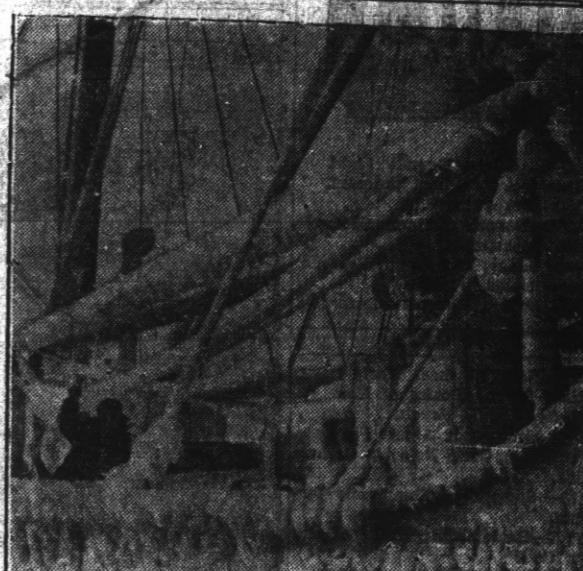

The men will be divided into the north, central and south parts of the state, with probable headquarters at Yreka, Truckee and San Bernardino, it was learned.

Duties of the officers would be to patrol highways, search trains and question all out-of-state persons entering California, it was reported. Arrests could be made on several charges, including that of vagrancy, if the person was without funds, and using rail facilities without paying fares.

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Feb. 1—Concentrating on the young couple, Douglas, two young men, the mystery of the young couple, died in the rear. Hook, 22, known as a gambler between right and wrong, the big question into today comes reportedly in Van Vleck's trial.

Assistant Attorney General E. Taylor left the state, accompanied by the members of the Jones, Tucson, Arizona, summer of the summer, to continue his contention that Van Vleck is innocent.

Taylor conducting his cross-examination in a skillful, commanding manner, brought out:

1. That Mr. Jones is not an expert in medical cases.

2. That defense attorney Jones' books are probably a possession marked before he took witness stand.

3. That in the opinion of Jones, Van Vleck knowingly did wrong when he shot and killed police officers who attempted to rest him on a charge of murder.

At the end of the second day of the trial the trend of the case became clear-cut.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—At a private gathering of Liberty League notables after Al Smith's banquet, the flat prediction was made that a third party candidate would be put into the field against Roosevelt. Possible nominees mentioned were Al Smith; ex-Governor Ritchie of Maryland; ex-Budget Director Douglas; and one-time Governor Joseph T. Ely of Mass. hustets. A confidential relief survey made by the U. S. Conference of Mayors contains the statement that "there are at least 500,000 employable cases, involving 2,000,000 persons, who have not yet been and will not be absorbed by the present WPA, FWA, CCC and other federal activities." A letter received at the Washington post office, addressed "Madame Queen" was sent to the Latvian Department. There it was found the communication was intended for Secretary Frances Perkins. Representative Henry E. Stulb, California Democrat, insists that the latest bill he has introduced is a very serious matter. The measure would make needful college students $15 a week. Under the National Youth Administration program they now receive $15 a month. Professional baseball is "scouting" the CCC camps for likely material. Julius St. Clair, an enrollee in a Virginia camp, recently signed up by a minor league club. Senator Lewis Schwellenbach has received hundreds of requests from all parts of the country for copies of his speech assailing the American Liberty League. On February 10, philatelists will have a new stamp to add to their collections. On that day the Post Office Department issues a new 15-cent red and blue airmail stamp. It replaces the present blue stamp, which was too easily confused with the Interstate Commerce Commission to extend for another year the freight rate surcharges which expire June 30. The carriers estimate that the extension will add $100,000,000 to their income.

BONUS FLAG

Determined to have a memento of the bonus victory that will remain after the money is spent, American Legion officials requested the American flag that flew over the Capitol during the bonus debates. They got it. To clear the Capitol's East Plaza of the parked cars that clutter it daily, Architect David Lynn has plans to build a subterranean garage under the Plaza, with a capacity of 2,000 cars.

The capital's Japanese cherry blossoms have brought not only pink blossoms and a spirit of good-will but also the Oriental fruit worm, which Plant Quarantine officials say has now spread from Georgia to Canada. A tardy Christmas request has come from Le Platte, Missouri, addressed to the President: "I am 16 years old and wear a size 40 inch bust. I just have found out that there is no Santa Claus, and since you are the next best person to him, I thought I would write to you. I want a bright green silk rough crepe dress for Christmas."

When a Senator complained that he could not hear the debate on the floor recently, red-faced Jack Garner pointed the gavel and complained in turn, "It is very difficult to keep order. The Senators have so much to talk to each other about."

COUNTER-ATTACK

Al Smith's declaration of war has made Administrationites more determined than ever to house-clean the present hostile Tammany leadership in order to forestall rebellious delegates to the Philadelphia Democratic Convention. Inside word is that Jim Farley has given the signal to go after the scalp of Jimmy Dooling, Tammany ruler, so that he can be replaced with a chief more friendly to Roosevelt. Representative Robert F. Rich, Pennsylvania's leather-lunited New Deal toe, was sharply dressed down by Republican Floor Leader Bertand Snell in a private cloak-room.

On top of this excitement, the production contains several catchy tunes, sung by two tremendous screen finds, Dorothy Page, beautiful singing radio star, and Pinky Tomlin, the college boy who in less than a year has taken Hollywood by storm with his refreshing personality.

Charges are Moderate

It is well to remember that a beautiful mortuary does not mean high prices, as this firm proves. With all the refinements and comforts to be found here, charges are never higher than the smallest incomes can easily afford. By including everything in one plainly marked price, we have made it possible for every family to make an appropriate selection without financial hardship.

BEACON GROUP
SCOTCH NIGHT
PROGRAM HELD

A "Scotch Night" program was enjoyed last evening when Beacon Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, convened at the Masonic hall.

The hall was decorated in the Scotch motif. A delicious banquet was enjoyed at conclusion of the program. On the committee for the evening were: Bertha Bagnall, Hilda Archibald, Haile Clements and Lillian Carico.

Worthy Matron Jane Arbuckle and Worthy Patron John A. Miller presided over the stated business meeting.

Next meeting night the line officers will entertain for the chapter. Mrs. Meta Hathaway, associate matron, has charge of the arrangements.

OFFICIAL TO SPEAK FOR LOCAL CLUB

Mrs. Duncan Robinson of Rio Vista, auditor of the California Federation of Women's Club, will be speaker when the Richmond Club holds its meeting on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Beulah Tiller will preside over the business meeting at 2 o'clock and Mrs. Robinson will speak at three o'clock.

Mrs. W. P. Cooper, musical chairman, has arranged a program of musical selections for the day.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

The Problem of a Youth Who Has That Annoying Ailment—Perspiring Feet

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

HERE is a letter which should arouse the sympathies of a great many young people and old, too, for that matter. I am sure the writer of the letter would not mind having it repeated if he thought he could help others who have similar miseries.

He says, "I am bothered very much with perspiring feet. I have tried everything under the sun to bring about a cure for this unbearable thing, but so far I have been most unsuccessful. Winter and summer the perspiration never ceases, and I am very much embarrassed when I am in a room with other people, for fear of offending them."

"My feet have perspired now for a number of years. I had hoped it would grow out of me, but my hopes are just about exhausted. I am twenty-two and they still perspire, no matter what precautions I take."

This young man's dilemma is very real, for young people can be very cruel and inconsiderate in their comments. His form of sweating feet is called Bromidrosis, or offensive sweating. It reminds me of years ago when in the gay crowd of young folks there was an especially attractive girl, evidently of careful personal habits, who had this particular affliction. Once on a boating picnic she attempted to go from one boat to another and by a misstep, she landed in the bottom of the boat with her feet on the outside.

Ought to Be a Law

I can get a twinge of regret to this day when I remember the facetious remarks the girls suggested that it might do her feet good to be well washed. There ought to be a law against youngsters making remarks like that.

There is probably no more annoying place to have excessive sweating than on the hands or feet. Because the feet are always covered they are inclined to get soggy and are usually very tender. Especially on the soles or between the toes is there likely to be special trouble.

It is well to see if a different type of foot covering can be selected. If the shoes are worn in the cold weather it is usually found that either extra heavy stockings are used or the shoes are tied up more snugly and the circulation is not so good.

The fact that sweaty feet are generally cold feet would indicate that the circulation is not quite normal. Often people whose employment keeps them standing in one position too long are troubled with cold and perspiring feet. We should remember, too, that the feet are naturally exposed to more dust and infection than other parts of the body.

U. S. Apples Superior

An English writer in 1773 observed "United States apples are expensive but their flavor is far superior to anything we can present to."

Why Not?

Use cleansing creams and freshening lotions, tonics and protective creams like those used for the complexion. Why not? They are really needed more on our feet. Witch hazel, bay rum, turpentine, camphor are all good lotions. X-ray treatment can be resorted to, but must be used with great caution.

Bathe the feet nightly in a saturated solution of boric acid, followed by a thorough rubbing with alcohol. Dust with a dry corn powder, salt and talcum powder. This will be an effective internal remedy that could be used, but for local sweating, local applications are the best, frequently giving relief and sometimes cure.

There are several combinations that are helpful and generally harmless.

One formula is: Menthol, grams 2; Plumbi acetatis, grams 1; Fulvi aluminis, grams 1; Resorcin, grams 1; Bismuth subnitrate, grams 3. This will make one powder.

Dissolve in two pints of water and soak the parts two or three times a day. A one per cent solution of formaldehyde in water is good, or equal parts of alcohol and water applied to the parts for several minutes and allowed to dry. Follow with a powder consisting of: Seelicic acid, ten grains; boric acid, two grams; and talcum, one ounce; these are good for both hands and feet.

For sweating feet: Acid-salicylic acid, grams 1/2; Resorcin, 1/2; Alcohol, grams 1. Paint soles of feet and toes, night and morning. Use for four or five till skin peels off, then discontinue.

Dr. Chrisman offers the privilege of addressing letters to him care of the Herald. He will answer questions of general interest in his column on this page.

Profiles For Today

James V. Allred Young Political Sensation

By TALBOT LAKE

JAMES V. ALLRED, thirty-six-year-old Governor of Texas, has been named the nation's most outstanding young man of 1935 by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. This is an honor worth having and places Allred as a sensational success at an age when most men are just beginning to get their bearings.

It is a good illustration of what stubbornness—when rightly applied—can do. In 1919 Allred was talking to three fellow sailors in San Francisco, following discharge. He calmly prophesized then that he would some day be Governor of Texas. Only sixteen years later he made good his boast.

This striking personage led the life of an ordinary boy in Bowie, a village between Dallas and Wichita Falls, for his family was in humble circumstances, and it wasn't until the war that his horizon widened. Out of the Navy, he took a clerical job in a lawyer's office in Wichita Falls. When he had saved enough money he attended Cumberland Law School in Tennessee.

He returned to Wichita Falls in the fall of 1924 and O'Neal. In 1924 he was appointed to fill an unfinished term as District Attorney. In 1926 he ran for Attorney General and was defeated, but four years later he scored an upset and won the job on a platform of forcing the large oil companies to pay their full share of taxes. He was re-elected in 1932 on the same platform, and by this time he had made himself a fixture on the state's political scene.

Allred, seeing himself nearer his goal, entered the next gubernatorial primaries, stamping the state thoroughly. In both the Democratic primaries and the final election he led handily.

He married Jo Betsy Miller, a talented pianist. They have two sons, James V., Jr., and David, who stood with him as he took the Governor's oath on the capital steps at Austin.

Warm Climate Means Check On Cosmetics

By JACQUELINE HUNT

ARE you going to sunny places for your midwinter vacation? Then do not forget your skin is sensitive from exposure to the wind and frost and that a sudden change to a warm, sunny climate is apt to cause trouble.

Arm yourself with a good sun-tan oil or sunproof cream or lotion, a smooth, non-oily powder, a darker shade of powder, otherwise you are apt to get a painful sunburn and have your skin peel, which is most annoying and may bring an aftermath of fine lines and freckles. Massage a rich tissue cream into the skin every night to keep the texture soft and fine. Olive oil or a body oil massaged into the skin will keep it soft and pliable. Be sure to use suntan oil over all exposed areas when you go to the beach or wear low-cut sports dresses. Take along a jar of rich hand cream, too, and use it often.

If most of the vacation is to be spent on land, then you might take along all of the exciting cosmetics that you have always wanted to use at home and never find the time—masks, tissue creams, hair tonics, hand and nail beautifiers, and exotic make-up.

Allow yourself an hour or more for a beautifying facial or mask treatment, and take all the time you need to apply your beauty aids such as mascara and eye shadow. You want to crowd all of the excitement and romance possible into your holiday.

As for make-up—remember you will tan skin, and the rouge and lipstick you have been using may not be quite so satisfactory. If you are a brunet you might try a dashing red poppy or carnelian shade. A blonde is gay and sparkling with one of the vivid fuchsia or geranium shades. If you want to become really bronzed a terra cotta or russet shade will be more flattering to your skin.

The make-up always takes along all of the beauty supplies she will need for the duration of cruise or vacation. Even in rather populous centers you cannot always find your favorite brands of creams, lotions, complexion soap, and bath accessories. To save space take along preparations that will serve more than one purpose when possible.

For instance, there is a new lotion which can be used for cleaning. Smear some of the thick, creamy lotion over the hands and face, too, if it needs it. Wipe it off with tissues and see how clean you look. Apply a little more and massage well into the skin for softening. By the way, if you use this on your face it serves as an excellent foundation.

For suggestions on keeping the chinline firm and youthful, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Unfriendly Chins."

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "I am the mother of a month-old baby and I would like to know if it is possible to keep my hands soft and neat-looking when I must do the baby's laundry and wash my hands so often. I am using half a dozen of lotions and hand creams, still my hands are dry, rough and scaly. Worried."

While many creams and hand lotions are satisfactory under normal circumstances, I have found nothing is so effective as plain olive oil when you must have your hands in water a good deal. After you give baby his bath, massage a liberal amount of the olive oil that you use for his skin into your hands. You will be surprised at the amount of oil your hands will absorb. When you are through work in the evening, soak your hands several minutes in warm olive oil, then put on a pair of old cotton gloves while you read or listen to the radio. Between these two daily oilings, use the hand lotion you have found most satisfactory.

QUESTION: "I would like to use perfume, but I rarely do, because most odors are unpleasant to me. I have many powders, creams and lotions because the scent is disagreeable. But my boy friend likes perfume, so will you please give me some helpful hints?"—Helene.

Look like you will have to sniff and sniff until you find something that appeals to you. Do not use something disagreeable to you just to please someone else or you will be uncomfortable and feel like a social outcast. Perhaps you would like some of the rather sweet, yet subtle, bouquets instead of the usual flower odors. Use the perfume sparingly and apply it with an atomizer to get the most pleasing effect. Spray a tiny bit on your hair and chest and use it on your fingertips.

MODERN WOMEN

It's Friendly Gesture for Girl to Ask Her Boy Friend in to Dinner

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

IN A reconstructed universe based upon a 50-50 plan between men and women it is obviously a woman's place to extend, as well as accept, invitations. If she makes any pretense of holding up her end how can it be otherwise? If she is squirmish, or thinks her escort is, in the matter of halving the check, she can at least make him a cup of good coffee and scramble him a few eggs without undermining her position. A girl who has a kitchenette at her disposal has a distinct advantage over a prettier rival sans kitchen privileges. It seems to me it is only up to her whether the boy friend abuses her hospitality.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I read a letter in a paper not long ago from a girl who complained that the young men of today expect her to do too much for them in the way of entertainment.

CHARLOTTE tells the most fantastic stories. Recently, for example, she said to her mother, "In nature class today, the room was full of birds, mother. Robins and orioles were here, and bluebirds, house sparrows, etc."

She points out that a few years ago a young man calling on a girl might take her out to dinner and a show, or a dance, as a regular thing. Now, she claims, the young fellow says he's tired of eating out and craves home cooking.

"If the girl wants masculine company—and most of them do—she will invite him to her home for dinner. This is not bad, according to the complainant, but then he wants to spend the evening right where he is and let necking substitute for the movies. Even this isn't so awful, but the trouble is he wants to do that almost every time he sees him, and as a result she hardly ever gets out.

Things Are Different

"Undoubtedly, the girl is right about never being taken out, but it does seem as if she should realize the young men of the depression cannot act as they did, and that other occupations—say bridge—should be sought to substitute. What do you think?"

"Depression." Here is the result of the picture usually shown of a girl, having wined and dined a girl, expects to be paid off with a kiss. Some men operate on the theory that one never knows until one tries whether a girl expects to be kissed. I'll admit one might expect experience to be their guide, and that it is not unreasonable to suppose they should be able to tell the difference between tweedies and tweedies. But they don't, or pretend they don't, so that's that.

I don't think a girl should extend an invitation during lunch, or sup tête-à-tête in her own apartment unless she is reasonably sure her guest is going to accept her invitation in the spirit in which it is given.

If a child's whoppers were to with the intention to deceive, they would be wrong, and the often punishment. But whoppers are told because they bring satisfaction to the teller. Essentially, they are a creative form of self-expression, like drawing or clay modeling. It is storytelling. Don't label them lies, therefore. And don't confuse the child by pretending to be taken in by them; he knows he is making them up. Such stories are harmless and may develop into a source of rich entertainment with proper handling. Just make a point of establishing at the beginning of the tale whether it is a really-and-truly story or make-believe. Enjoy the story for what it is!

It has been said so often there just must be some truth in it, that's the girl, not the man, who establishes their basis of relations. I am inclined to that belief. There are isolated cases when a man gets out of hand and shows a distinct preference for playing unfaithfully. The girl can't make money enough to play rough and she makes no effort to get him back into line that's distinctly up to her and she is unfair to blame the man for anything that may happen.

Short Cuts

It does not matter how faithfully hardwood floors are swept with a soft brush and wiped with a dust mop, they will become dingy and worn looking without a soap and water bath and waxing every few months.

Have a footrest of some kind for the young child who sits at the table with grown-ups to keep his legs from dangling and becoming tired.

Painted furniture may be combed successfully with maple.

Few men would expect a girl to do all the entertaining. She might have friends in for bridge or arrange her dinner invitation for an evening on which she was sure someone would drop in to interrupt a too prolonged tête-à-tête.

By giving the invitation she might suggest they could run around to the movies later. It isn't very sensible for her to create the impression that the stage is set for a love scene unless she wants to create such an impression.

Girls always assume each and every man is pining to make love to them. I don't think it always follows. Even the Casanovas and Don Juans have their preferences, and because a man eats eggs scrambled eggs it doesn't necessarily follow he wants to gobble up his hostess, too.

Personally, I think it's a friendly gesture to ask a man friend in for a drink of tea or what have you, and when he asks for the girl's hospitality I see no reason for resentment.

It's obviously trying to have a meal always in public place. One cannot blame a busy man for falling into the habit of spending a quiet evening at the home of some girl who makes things comfortable for him. If, on the other hand, this habit is irksome to her, she should have enterprise enough to interrupt it.

It's fatal for her to give him the impression he is the only one so favored, unless, as I said before, she wants him to believe it.

PROGRAM TO CUT COSTS IS SOUGHT

bankers, industrialists, farmers and labor leaders:

"You object to the financial and tax situation; now come here and tell us what you think should be done about it. If you agree on a program, perhaps the electorate will approve of your plans and we may adopt a change which will be satisfactory to a majority."

NO TAX ADDITIONS

Merriam has said he did not favor any major tax additions now. He believes improved business conditions will increase revenue sufficiently to retire the $75,000,000 deficit during his administration. Bankers have not agreed, however. Apprehensive about accepting registered warrants indefinitely, they would like to see revenue increased until the state is returned to a cash basis. Merchants, farmers and industrialists, on the other hand, want no new taxes which will affect them.

Consequently, with no agreement in sight, officials felt it would be futile to call a special legislative session. The governor would prefer to have the representatives attending the conference devise a program of their own and assure it sufficient support to win the approval of the electorate.

PLANS ASKED

Merriam will open the conference at 11 A.M. with a general statement of public fiscal problems in California. Finance Director Arlin E. Stockburger will outline the state government's financial situation. Problems of county governments will be discussed by W. L. Connolly of San Francisco, representing the State Chamber of Commerce. Municipal expenses will be explained by James Mussatt, Los Angeles official of the California Taxpayers Association.

Then the delegates, representing 77 associations, 22 chambers of commerce and both houses of the legislature, will be invited to submit plans for reducing expenses and revising the tax situation.

THE DONT LIST

The best things said by Wise, however, were in reference to the man the party should avoid, and the kind of man the party should not nominate, including:

1. Former inept and defeated leaders.
2. Old reactionaries and stand-patters.
3. Village Hamdems dressed up like Abraham Lincoln.
4. Amiable, unqualified gentlemen.
5. Stooges and pawns of powerful groups.
6. Republican demagogues who spout radicalism.
7. First rate vice-presidential timber which is too light for the bigger job.

If these "dons" particularly are given heed by the Republicans, "the way will be paved", as Senator Moses says, "for an intelligent nomination," to which can also be added, a winning one. If they are ignored the elephant had better find a soft spot in which to rest for the next four years.

Safe Driving Hints

By the National Safety Council

Starting

Most drivers have gone through that annoying and sometimes dangerous experience of having their motors die and leave them stranded in the middle of traffic. A thousand horns honk, the policeman yells, and the driver gets panicky.

Don't get out into the line of traffic until the motor has warmed up enough so that it will idle easily. On a cold morning, if you are afraid the motor may die, run slowly in second gear until it warms up.

A good, safe start may save you from a sudden and unexpected finish!

HOFFMAN ASKS POLICE CHIEF TO MAKE QUIZ TO MAKE PROBE

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 1—UP—Governor Harold G. Hoffman today made new demands on Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the state police, to answer his questions about the Lindbergh kidnapping case "to which he holds the answers."

Meanwhile he was assured by the chief man of the Republican state legislature that there would be no party reprisal for his granting a reprieve to the condemned Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

Hoffman said that Schwarzkopf holds answers to questions involving some places of the case involving accomplices. He said that he expected the superintendent to give the answers at a conference early next week.

If the major witnesses in the case were telling the truth in their early statements to the police, Hoffman said, "there are still other persons to be detected and prosecuted."

The governor pointed out in an order for renewed inquiry what he considered discrepancies in the testimony of important witnesses at the trial of Hauptmann, convicted murderer of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. Particularly, he would like to clarify the changed opinion of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh who said at the time of Hauptmann's arrest that he believed the German carpenter was one of a gang but at the trial testified he believed Hauptmann alone kidnapped and murdered his son.

Hoffman said he did not contemplate recalling Lindbergh from his English retreat immediately for further questioning but intimated that he would like to question Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon, intermediary in the ransom negotiations. Hoffman claimed discrepancies in Dr. Condon's trial testimony and statements since the trial.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—UP—The borrowing policy of the Administration was attacked tonight by Representative Bernard Snell, Rep. N. Y., minority leader of the House who renewed the charge that President Roosevelt had failed to live up to his campaign promises for governmental economy.

"Mr. Roosevelt, himself, is responsible for the statement that the credit of the nation is good only when the nation is living within its income," Snell asserted in a radio address.

He followed with the charge that the three years of the present administration have been an "unprecedented era of spending."

ROOSEVELT ASKED TO MAKE QUIZ TO MAKE PROBE

a Congressional investigation of the maritime labor situation, the fifth to come from the Pacific Coast within two weeks.

U. S. AID ASKED
The Maritime Federation, the Waterfront Employers Association, the State Chamber of Commerce and the last night the San Francisco Central Labor Council dispatched delegations to Washington authorities to enter what they considered a situation menacing the peace and prosperity of the West Coast and of one of its most important industries. The International Sailors Union in Washington also asked an investigation.

Bridges and the Maritime Federation, through its San Francisco Council, both mentioned the alleged nation-wide conspiracy to crush the unions. They did not give sources of their charges but said unless the Federal government acted "civil war" would follow.

Waterfront employers dismissed the union allegations with a countercharge the Maritime Federation, which neither they nor the American Federation of Labor has recognized, was attempting to throw up a smoke screen to block an inquiry of its alleged subversive activities and to save its own life.

constitutionality of the new farm plan is under fire tonight.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—UP—The cry of "politics" and "unconstitutionality" was raised against the administration new farm program tonight as Senate Republicans planned an assault upon the bill when it is brought up for consideration next week.

The Republican attack will be based on the charge that the revised Bankhead-Jones measure is a make-shift arrangement which cannot be defended successfully on constitutional grounds before the Supreme Court.

Minority leaders have no hopes of blocking the bill's passage.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—UP—Frances Williams, former "scandals" beauty and her third husband, Robert Wachtman, theatrical agent who separated, was led to a radio address.

They surprised friends last November 4 by getting married at Harrison, N. Y., following a birthday party. Miss Williams said then it was her "third and last try." She and Wachtman have lived apart since Christmas.

Lester C. Lark, musician, was Mrs. Wachtman's first husband. Miguel De Soudin Souza, Spanish polo player and Hollywood busi-cold wave—already longest in a generation—would cause widespread hardship.

Alleviation of the cold wave merely would give us a chance to catch up on orders," said the secretary of the Indiana Coal Merchants' Association. "Four or five days' continuation of extreme cold probably will bring a crisis—and for Indiana, the forecast was snow Sunday and another drop of the mercury. A coal miner was found frozen to death at Linton, Ind., after he was injured in a pit.

FUEL SHORTAGE

South Bend, Indianapolis, and Evansville were reported feeling the fuel shortage most severely among large communities.

Officials of the Illinois State Department of Mines and Minerals said the fuel shortage in Southern Illinois—center of vast soft coal fields—would be serious unless the weather turned warmer early next week.

Many home were reported without heat in Harrisburg and Eldorado, in the coal fields of Saline county, Illinois. Six hundred miners worked overtime in two mines to catch up on back orders.

In some sections of Missouri residents continued to keep warm with corn cobs, paper and wood. Prediction of slightly warmer weather in Ohio gave hope that ice jams along the Ohio river would break up and permit resumption of coal shipments from the West Virginia fields.

TVA Decision Expected Monday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—UP—Expectation of a ruling on validity of the TVA, the New Deal's giant power project in the Tennessee river were renewed tonight after the Supreme Court met for a conference to put the finishing touches on opinions to be rendered Monday.

Decision of the TVA case, a challenge to the law brought by preferred stockholders of the Alabama Power Company, was regarded as almost a certainty.

The case was argued more than six weeks ago. The court has taken longer to decide the issue than any presented to it.
